DETAILED ACTION

Summary

On February 13, 2006, an Office Action was sent to the Applicant rejecting claims 3-11, 13-21, and 23. On May 22, 2006, the Applicant responded with arguments.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 3-11, 13-21, and 23 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Johnson in view of Enns, as set forth in the previous Office Action.

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments filed on May 22, 2006 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive.

The Applicant argues that neither references discloses or teaches storing an account for each of a plurality of subscribers of the wireless network, each account having an upstream and a downstream balance that tracks a wireless network data consumption of the respective subscriber of the wireless network. In response, Enns teaches accounts having upstream and downstream balances in which the consumption is tracked (col.21, lines 60-63). The account activity that includes upstream/downstream information is monitored. Wireless systems are utilized in the invention taught by Enns (col.22, lines 15-20), thus, the Examiner is interpreting Enns as reading onto the limitation substantially as claimed.

The Applicant argues that neither reference discloses or teaches imposing a bandwidth limitation on a subscriber of the wireless network responsive to either the upstream or downstream balance of the account of that subscriber of the wireless network dropping below a predefined level. In response, Enns teaches that the network controller also acts as a bandwidth manager (col.4, lines 35-40 and col.17, line 65 to col.18, line 3), which the Examiner is interpreting as imposing a bandwidth limitation on a subscriber of the wireless network responsive to either the upstream or downstream balance of the account of that subscriber of the wireless network dropping below a predefined level.

The Applicant argues that neither reference discloses or teaches for each account, crediting the balance of the respective account on an intermittent basis. In response, Johnson discloses multiple-tiered billing rates, which may be used to give billing adjustments (p.39, 317 and p.40, 326). The Examiner is interpreting the billing adjustments as being a credit to the balance of the respective account.

Conclusion

THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
